

SALVATORE CAPASSO is the Director of the Department of Human and Social Sciences of the Italian National Research Council (CNR) and full Professor of Economics at the University of Naples Parthenope. He is former Director of the Institute for Studies on the Mediterranean - CNR and sits in the board of directors of the Archeological National Museum. He has published a large number of peer-reviewed papers in reputed international journals and has been invited to a number of institutional and academic conferences. His latest research focuses on the relationship between crime, corruption and growth and on the role of the underground economy in economic development. He boasts the scientific responsibility and coordination of numerous national and international research projects and has acted as a consultant for numerous government bodies.

Recent publications:

- “Informality and Financial Development: A Literature Review”, The Manchester School, 2022, <https://doi.org/10.1111/manc.12417> (with F. Ohnsorge, S. You).
- “Fiscal transparency and tax ethics: does better information lead to greater compliance?”, Journal of Policy Modelling, 2021, Vol. 45, pp. 1031-1050 (with E. De Simone, L. Cicatiello, G. Gaeta, P. Reis-Mourao).
- “Spatial asymmetries in monetary policy effectiveness in Italian regions” Spatial Economic Analysis, 2019 DOI: 10.1080/17421772.2020.1673899 (with M. D’Uva, F. Cristiana, O. Napolitano).
- “Is it the gums, teeth or the bite? Effectiveness of dimensions of enforcement in curbing corruption” Economics of Governance, 2019, 20, pp. 329-369 (with R. Goel e J. Sauronis).
- “Domestic or foreign currency? Remittances and the composition of deposits and loans” Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization, Vol. 160, April 2019, pp. 168-183 (with K. Nenidis).