

SALVATORE CARROZZO is a Post-Doc in Economics at the University of Naples Parthenope. He completed the “Vilfredo Pareto” PhD in Economics at University of Turin and at Collegio Carlo Alberto. His research interests are Economics of Migration, Labor Economics and Public Economics. He has visited during his working career Paris School of Economics, Pompeu Fabra University and “Carlo III” University of Madrid.

Recent publications:

- Cultural consumption and integration of immigrants. Journal of Cultural Economics, 2026. (with Lodigiani, E. and Venturini, A.)

Working Papers:

- “Temporary Internal Displacement and Receiving Communities' Voting Behavior”, CESifo Working Paper No. 11737 CESifo Munich
- “The Labor Market Effects of an Unexpected Amnesty for Undocumented Workers “
- “How Regularization Procedures Reshape Labor Market Dynamics” funded by VisitINPS
- “Economic Assimilation of Immigrants: Adverse Effects of an Integration Program”